Australian Railway Historical Society, S. A. Division Inc.

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Australian Railway Historical Society was founded in New South Wales in 1933 and now has Divisions in all States. The South Australian Division was formed in 1952.

The Society provides a means whereby persons interested in any phase of the history or operations of Australian Railways may associate with other persons of similar interest to their mutual benefit, education and enjoyment.

Interests of members include photography of railways and railway subjects, locomotive performance and design, rolling stock, timetables and riding on trains or being part of an operating railway. An interest in any one of these facets, or for that matter anything pertaining to railways is sufficient for you to derive satisfaction from membership.

The Society holds a general meeting on the last Thursday of each month, except in December, which is a forum and gathering place for members to compare interests and to exchange views on railway subjects. Reports are given on activities of the Society whilst the entertainment section is provided by speakers, films, discussions on railway and railway related topics with the occasional special outing.

PUBLICATIONS

The Society publishes, on an Australia - wide basis, the "Australian Railway History" magazine containing articles of historic interest on railways, locomotives and rolling stock and the people who operate them for the various railways within Australia both past and present.

The South Australian Division publishes a bi-monthly Newsletter containing current information on the Society and the SteamRanger Heritage Railway.

From time to time the Society publishes books on the various aspects of past history of the railways and associated equipment in the State.

THE STEAMRANGER HERITAGE RAILWAY

SteamRanger is the trading name for the railway operation of the Society. It was the first Heritage railway in this State to be granted Rail Safety Accreditation under the S.A. Rail Safety Act. There are a number of steam and diesel locomotives and heritage railcars as well as a collection of passenger carriages and freight rolling stock. The major activity is the operation of trains over the railway between Mount Barker and Victor Harbor. Other services are also available. Part of the railway forms the first public railway in the Commonwealth and was initially horse drawn.

Rail services are operated predominantly by volunteers, who perform a variety of tasks including station staffing, ticket and shop sales, train operations, passenger service, inspection and maintenance of track and infrastructure, restoration and maintenance of locomotives and rolling stock.

Volunteers working in particular operational and safety related areas must meet prescribed medical standards and be trained and then periodically requalify in accordance with the railway's formal accreditation requirements.

Cockle Trains Services;

Are operated between Goolwa and Victor Harbor every Wednesday and Sunday throughout the year, with more intensive daily service during school holidays and on certain public holidays. Steam locomotives are usually featured in holiday periods and on selected Sundays from May to November, with a diesel locomotive hauled train or heritage railcar at other times. From time to time heritage railcars are also run from the coast to Strathalbyn or Mount Barker and return. Steam services may be curtailed when locomotive maintenance is necessary or fire bans are applied.

Southern Encounter and Highlander Services;

Are scheduled from Mount Barker to both Victor Harbor and Strathalbyn from May to December as often as possible using a steam locomotive.
